- We will need to remove the subscription trade menu completely.
- Packages (Instead of this, we will change the labelling to Account types
 - Under this tab, we will just have the list of all the different account types and also the big tab there showing the currently active account type should be made smaller.
 - The information it should contain includes
 - Activated on, Date of upgrade
 - Account name
 - Amount invested for the upgrade
 - They shouldn't be able to upgrade themselves, so we can just have the add plan button removed.
- Remove the last menu which is the Refer User.
- We will change the Logo there to the company's logo.
- At the horizontal pane at the top, we should have the;
 - Toggle button to change color
 - The language should have geo targeted so whatever country the person is browsing from the language should be auto-set to that.
 - If possible, lets have just the logos of the flags of the country instead of the long button there saying Select language with the Google sign there.
 - The profile icon picture there can be left that way with the dropdown menu there would include;
 - Change password
 - Account Settings
 - Verify account
 - Log out
